“ I still don't want to beleive that you are gone but until we meet again I will forever cherish all the fun times and adventures I got to be apart of with Andy. One in particular that sticks out to me was in these photos I posted. We had all decided to have a few beers and catch up with each other and decided to go down to this waterfall that Andy talked about and said it was a cool spot to check out and man was it a hike to get there but It was so worth the trip tho. He was right it was pretty awesome and peaceful. I asked Andy if he could take a photo of me by the waterfall and he did. But as i was looking back on the photos we took from that trip I noticed that he took a selfie on my phone and I couldn't help but smile and laugh because that's just who Andy was such a happy person and always lit up the room with so much joy and laughter. I will forever be thankful that our paths crossed and that I got to make some of the funnest memories that I will cherish forever. It's definetly not going to be the same without you brother. But I will continue to keep your memory alive and continue disc golfing and riding my bike which you got me back into.
