Her memory is cherished by her mother and step-father, Wilma and Fred Stubbendick of Grand Island; sister and brother-in-law Sharon and Donald Vogt of Lincoln; cousins, Craig Anderson, Ed Whipple and Vicki O'Briant; numerous friends.

Carol was preceded in death by her father, Wilford; dear cousin Russel Anderson and four-legged companion, Fritz.

1976.

Upon returning to Grand Island, Carol was employed for 35 years by Kriz-Davis as a system analyst, bringing the company into the computer age. After retirement in 2010, Carol went back to her teaching roots and started volunteering at the Literacy Council. She was dedicated to helping others learn, many times this would include a trip to the Omaha Henry Doorly Zoo. Through the Literacy Council she was also able to help people find jobs and gain citizenship.

Carol was independent, ornery and always busy. She worked hard on making her house a home and she loved taking care of her yard and the beautiful flowers. She had a flair for painting and hand painted most of the accents in her home. Carol was a wonderful cook and gifted singer. Carol cared for her family and was devoted to her mother and step-father and their well-being.

In lieu of flowers Carol's family request memorials be designated to the Literacy Council.

“ Carol was the first friend I made at Kriz-Davis. I can still hear her saying, "You've been Solar Eclipsed!" (About the software sometimes drove all of us nuts.) Her laughter was contagious and her old KD family will miss her like crazy.

“ Carol was a pleasure to know and work with through the Literacy Council of Grand Island. I have seen Carol's passion for our organization's cause, and her recent efforts in assisting with the Fall Banquet and serving as the former board treasurer. My thoughts and prayers are with Carol's family and friends, and we will be forever grateful for the work she has done at the Literacy Council of Grand Island.

Sincerely,

*Karla A. McGeorge
