

Devon LeAnn Hamner

May 21, 1951 - July 4, 2016

Devon LeAnn (Schulz) Hamner, 65, of Grand Island, beloved wife, mother, grandmother, heartfelt Christian, mentor, and teacher extraordinaire, departed this life for her heavenly home on July 4, 2016 after a spirited year-long battle against cancer.

To honor Devon's wishes, cremation was chosen. Visitation will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, July 7, 2016 at All Faiths Funeral Home.

Services will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, July 8, 2016 at the First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Caroline Price-Gibson will officiate.

Devon was born May 21, 1951 in Akron, Iowa to Earl and Sanna (Haase) Schulz. She grew up surrounded by love on the family farm near Elk Point, South Dakota, and graduated from Elk Point High School in 1969. Knowing in her heart that she was born to be a Kindergarten teacher, she attended Augustana College in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, graduating in 1973. She earned her Master's degree from Doane College, Crete, Nebraska in 1993.

On July 14, 1973, she married Charles Hamner. The couple made their home in Grand Island, Nebraska, where Devon had "the best job in the world," teaching for 38 years at West Lawn Elementary School. She retired in 2011.

Survivors include her beloved husband of 43 years, Chuck; two sons and daughters-in-law, Nathan and Emily of Snohomish, Washington; Jonathan and Valeria of Grand Island; and one daughter, Kristin, of Piedra Blanca de Bonao, Dominican Republic; five grandchildren: Katherine and Jonah Hamner, Nicolas Toledo Hamner, Sofia and Selva Hamner de Paula.

Also left to cherish her memory are a brother and sister-in-law, Brad and Terry Schulz of Omaha; four aunts: Wilda Abraham and Mary Arlene Schulz of Elk Point, and Wilma Haase and Rose Haase of Sioux City, Iowa; as well as one uncle, Ray Schulz of Vermillion, South Dakota; one niece and two nephews; cousins galore; a wide circle of wonderful friends; and a host of erstwhile students, nearly all of whom know in their hearts that “I was Mrs. Hamner’s favorite.” She was preceded in death by her parents and grandparents, four aunts and five uncles.

A voracious reader herself, Devon’s greatest pleasure was introducing others—particularly her children and grandchildren—to the skills of reading and the joy of books. As a kindergarten teacher, she sent hundreds of “1,000 book kids” off to first grade, ensuring their success and love of reading throughout their school careers and beyond. She was a contracted writer for the National Council of Teachers of English “Read-Write-Think” website, crafting model lessons to be published for use by other teachers worldwide. Her last crowning achievement was reading and recording scores of her favorite kid-lit books on CDs for each grandchild to treasure.

Devon’s grandchildren will also remember her for “Nana’s projects.” She never failed to have something fun and educational to work on whenever they were together—especially baking gingerbread boys and girls who always ran away and had to be found.

Devon was an active lifelong member of the International Reading Association’s Central Nebraska chapter, the Grand Island Education Association, the Nebraska State Education Association, and the National Education Association, attending five national conventions over the years. She was an involved member of First Presbyterian Church, serving as Sunday School and Bible School teacher, Stephen Ministry leader, deacon, elder, and the first ever female President of the Corporation. Her special joy was participating in her Bible study groups.

In retirement, she drew great satisfaction from service as a volunteer and board member of the Presbyterian Preschool; in 2013 and again in 2014, she received the American Red Cross Preparedness Award for making “Whale Tales” (water safety) and “Scrubby Bear” (hand washing) presentations in dozens of area classrooms.

Socially, Devon enjoyed membership in the Grand Island Area Retired School Personnel, NSEA-R, the Platte Valley Retired Education Association, and PEO.

She enjoyed traveling, corresponding with her far-flung friends, baking, and sharing her faith with her loyal Christian friends, who heartened and sustained her through her final illness. Devon’s lifelong goal was to celebrate the blessings of each day, honoring each as a gift from God.

Memorials are suggested to the Foundation of Peace or First Presbyterian Church.

“ Devon was my high school best friend and I am so fortunate that we reconnected by correspondence many years ago and got to know one another over again. In this past year while Devon had her own big health problems AND her own spirited way of focusing on many things important to her other than medical treatments, she provided generous support to me while I am going through my daughter's serious medical problem with her. Devon's unselfish spirit is going to be missed by so many. I am sad--but so fortunate to have been her friend. Twice!

“ Devon and I were in the same 4-H club as kids. We had so much fun sewing clothes for the county fair and practicing demonstrations on how to cook. Our club meetings were often at her home with Devon making treats. Devon went to "town school" in the elementary grades while I was still attending a rural school. Before my rural school closed I decided to visit the "town school". I was apprehensive but Devon took the leadership role-- showed me around and made me feel comfortable. It seems like that happened yesterday. My sympathy to all of Devon's family.

“ She was my second grade teacher, and one of my favorites. I use to play school at home with my chalkboard and I was always Mrs. Hamner. She was tall and thin and usually wore her hair up had a special way that she stood and I use to pretend I was her every time I played school. Rest in peace beautiful lady.

“ Chuck and family, My heart is hurting for you. It was wonderful to get to know Devon through our many years of teaching Kdg in GIPS. We also got our masters together. Seems like yesterday. I loved her smile and laugh. She truly lived out her faith every time I saw her. I know how much she will be missed in your lives and in those precious grandbabies lives, as I saw her love for them in many pictures. I'm so sorry I will be out of town for the visitation and funeral. My heartfelt prayers for God's loving arms to hold you and comfort you. " Though the mountains be shaken and the hills be removed, yet my unfailing love for you will not be shaken nor my covenant of peace be removed, " says the Lord, who has compassion on you. --- Isaiah 54:10 Kriste Molacek

“ I worked with Devon for many years and tried to fill her shoes when she retired. Her children and mine were friends and involved together at school. My tribute to Devon is to share how she helped our family. There were a couple years where I was battling depression and had to leave immediately for help. Devon was there talking to my daughter and making sure she had grocery money to keep her and her brothers going in the turmoil. She cared for my children, the most important thing in my life. After the second time, I went to a great hospital to really work on healing, and came home with bills and as a single parent.. she, I know it was anonymous but Devon worked with friends and they donated money to pay my hospital bill. She was always there day to day but she didn't turn away like so many others at these times in our life. She stepped up and was there for my kids and myself. She lived her faith, that is what I learned from Devon.
