“ I did not know Diane well, when I was at Rosevelt Jr. High nor at Great Bend Senior High. Each of us are a grain of sand in the ebb and flow of life. I do know with the passing of our classmates, the world is diminished to quote John Donne's poem, "No Man is an Island." Each of us leaves an impression on others during our God-granted time on the planet. Our actions in life leave ripples for the present and future. Thank you, Spirit, for the gift of Diane's life on this planet. Sincerely, Dennis D. Embry

“ Sending prayers for comfort to Diane's family and friends. Such a sad loss to those of us left to grieve, but also to celebrate for the blessings of the times that we shared with her. Diane left a very big footprint in all of our life journeys...what a blessing she was and will continue to be...remembering that crazy sense of humor, her laughter, and her love of family and friends!! These years have flown by...my first memories are from the days at St. Rose, then Roosevelt Junior High, and our final days at Great Bend High School. Like so many at that time, we somehow got "disconnected" along the way...but years later, thanks to FaceBook, we reconnected and have enjoyed these last few years again sharing on-line cryptic messages, crazy postings, and LOTS of laughter. So grateful that I was privileged to have known such a great lady and could call her friend.

“ Diane was AWESOME !!!! Quick witted, Gnarly sense of humor with great timing. I remember years back, I went to pick up my nephews, Chris and Kyle from Diane and Duane's house (Diane babysat them); there was Diane rockin out to Jack-n-Diane, her new favorite song. That was back in the day when M-TV actually played music all day. Jack -n-Diane was a new release, and she was diggin it, we all were. To this day, every time I hear that song, I think of our Diane. Chris and Kyle loved her dearly, and still do, as we all do. Oh! let us not forget all the Christmases that Diane stayed up all night to make those gifts herself! ! ! It's O.K. laugh out loud, Diane would have. I will miss you forever, yet I will carry you in my heart always. Jaynee
