“ I remember walking with you everyday after school to our grandma's house, I remember when you beat up Trevor W. for bullying me.. we walked for two straight hours to his house. all because you wouldn't let someone hurt me. you hated seeing me cry. I remember staying up all night watching WWE wrestling we would get so into it! I miss you cousin.. I can't believe your gone... I just can't fucking believe it. my heart hurts for you. I keep texting you thinking you are going to reply.. this is crazy. I have keep telling my self that your no longer in any pain. I keep telling my self that your soul is at rest and your heart no longer hurts... I'm sorry Isaiah.. that you felt so alone that this was the answer. I love you man.
until we meet again.. Rest in Peace.

“ I knew Isaiah many years ago. We used to play checkers and he beat me every time. I always would play again because I enjoyed his company. My heart dropped today when I saw your obituary in the news paper. I wish I could of had the chance to talk to you one last time. I wish your children and family well.

“ Isaiah you were the funniest little kid I knew. I remember the last time I was able to come to visit you you were what 9 years old maybe if that and I was playing around with you and I hung your underwear on a tree outside and you were so mad at me for it but we laughed about it later on. I don't know how much pain you were in and I really wish there was another way for you but you chose this and I'm sorry I wasn't there to help you and talk you out of this decision. Your mom is in so much pain and misses you so much as does all of us. I really wanted to be there for your funeral unfortunately a certain person will not allow your family to be there. Just know that we are there in spirit. I know you're watching over all of us. Have fun with Grandpa Baker and your Uncle Michael and tell them we all love them and miss them dearly. I love you Isaiah I miss you so much love Aunt Ashley
