“ Jim was one of the most thoughtful, big-hearted, and gregarious people I've ever had the privilege of knowing. His loss grieves me deeply. The world is a little less bright with his passing. Although I can't be there in person, please know I will be there to celebrate his life in spirit. Warmest blessings to his family and friends.

You were there for him more than you'll ever know Matt, because he treasured you... and I believe he still does. I am fortunate to have met you through him and blessed all the more for being your friend too, as well.

“ James... er... Jim was a truly dear friend and I know we had our moments between us that were rough, but ultimately we were better friends for it in the long run. May the four winds guide you home, my brother... our paths will meet again. <3
