“ Grandma Jo was a kind-hearted woman, hard working, practical and strong. She was a sharp dresser, a classy woman and was a great interior decorator. Grandma was famous for her spaghetti and her orange crescent rolls. There was nothing she could not sew and she always had a half a piece of juicy-fruit gum in her pocketbook to share with her grandchildren. Grandma Jo was fun to be with, she loved to dance and she was happy until the end of her life.

She was loved by many and she will be missed.

“ I took care of Josephine at the home. She will be missed. One of my memories of her is when we would hold hands and walk to and or from the dining room she would try so hard to dance. She had a great smile. May God comfort your family during this time.
