“ Beautiful, positive, spirited Kaitlyn. I feel blessed to have had you in class. You reminded me to seek adventure. When I challenged you to reflect you expressed confidence, when I questioned what you would do with the confidence you gave thought and insight. I presented a dream trip to my husband because of the value you expressed in your abroad experiences. May your angel wings take you to places you always dreamed of!

Jennifer and Herb, thank you for sharing your wonderful daughter. You may not know through the numbness when you are in need. But, know you are loved and I will listen, do and be for you as you need.
