“ Watching Lori's service was so meaningful. I remember how Lori would come into the church office and I could hear Lori's cheerful voice down the hall. And when she would come into my office, her smile was so warm. Thoughts and prayers for comfort, peace, and strength.

“ Lori and I went to elementary school together. We were part of the four big girls. And we even had a gang. Jesse James was a TV show and we all played a part. She was Cole Young and I was Frank James. Leann Hinrichs(Wilsey) was Jesse and Kris Havranek completed our gang.

Lori was great on the bars doing all kinds of tricks that I could never master. She always amazed me. She made school fun. Sending prayers to her family.

“ I have known Lori for about 2 years now, she was my neighbor and when we first moved in she had seen us working outside mowing the lawn and greeted us and brought some dilly bars for us. Then last summer my step-dad had got covid and was hospitalized and once Lori found out she decided to buy a whole dinner for me and my family, including drinks and dessert. So we paid it back to her and bought her and her husband Texas Roadhouse. It has always been the back and forth kindness with us. Every time we saw her walking the dogs or if she saw us she would always come by and talk to us. But I'm going to miss her very dearly!

“ We are shocked to hear of Lori's passing. We first met her when she and Paul were several days from departing to Zambia for their mission trip. She was devastated as she could not find a home for her miniature dachshunds, Jake and Jess. She was very bonded to these dogs. We took them in, with the promise of finding them a good home. It was hard for her to leave them. They ended up living out their lives with us and we grew to love them dearly. I sent Lori updates over the years and we eventually lost touch, though we shared this connection. I am so sorry I was unable to connect with her before her passing. Heart of gold, loving and compassionate lady. Prayers for comfort in the days ahead for her husband, son and extended family. Randy and Maureen Mendyk
