“ So sorry I won't be able to attend on Friday. We played in Cross Roads together. We had such a good time, the most fun was cramming into his basement for band practice and to watch Wren & Stimpy. I will always remember the love hate we had with ending gigs. We hated to load all the equipment back down the stairs in the basement, but we loved going to Tommy's at 3 in the morning to celebrate and eat some chicken fried steak and green gravy! His version of "Knockin on Heaven's Door" has been locked in my head this past week, and I'm sure he is sitting on his throne right now, singing and playing his heart out. Rest well my friend!
