Myrtle was a good cook and a gracious hostess who always offered anyone who visited something to eat and drink. If you

Many who knew Myrtle admired how effortlessly put together she was. No matter the circumstance, her hair was never out of place, her nails were done, and she wore just the right outfit with the perfect accessories.

Myrtle had a quiet demeanor, but also had a great sense of humor and a surprisingly competitive side. She enjoyed watching Nebraska football games, the Kansas City Royals, finishing a crossword puzzle, and playing a spirited game of cards. “ Precious Aunt Myrtle you were Loved by many, and touched hearts dearly. The happy little moments in time that are in the memories of those who you touched will be the medicine they need when they hurt. You are no longer in pain and in our dear lords arms. It pains us here who have lost you but we know that you are at peace as you are watching over us beside the angels that watched over you. You will be missed, and are Loved.
Your niece Karen Bell

When I see if you need to sleep
Cry for your brother or sister waking the street beside you
And when you need me, put your arms around anyone
And give them what you need to give me
I want to share your anything
Something better than words or sounds
Look for me in the people that know or loved
And if you cannot give me away
All that let me live in your eyes and not your mind
You can love me most by letting hands touch hearts
By letting bodies touch bodies
And letting go of children that need to be free
Love doesn't die, people die
So when all that's left of me is love
