“ Was so sorry to hear about Pat's passing. She was such a joy to be around. I had so much fun with her when I helped take care of her at her daughters home. We did some fun things, one was when I took her to the state fair and the statue posing touched her hand and she slapped it, we all just bust out laughing, she was such a card. When we went to the doctor's office she would take a pair of blue cloves to dye her hair with...when I scolded her, she said, they're not going to use them on me today, so I'll take mine home with me today 😭😭 she also always kidded me about my handsome husband, I think she had a little crush on him and always supported in office. I learned a lot about Pat when we made up her Genealogy books for her family's. That was one of her biggest accomplishments to get done, before I left. I hope everyone enjoys the hard work she put into getting everything she could in those albums and treasure them to pass down to the next generation!! She will be missed for her humor and laughter that I can still hear. One great lady 🥰

“ You would have to look high and low to find good people like Pat Cook and my Aunt Bertha! I look up to them both! Though I did not spend a lot of time around Pat, she treated me as if I was immediate family. I will never forget her kindness! Imagine my surprise when I received a Facebook friend request from Pat!! Pat is a blessing; I understand God wanting her back with Him!

Love to all her family - God's blessings,
