“ As I sit here with tears running down my face my heart is just crumbling. It brings sorrow to me just knowing that you had so much pain inside you heart and mind that you thought there was no other way. I have a huge hole in my heart that I didn't get to tell you goodbye and that I love you. Us kids were so close growing up we were always together, Always. Even though it has been forever that I've seen you, doesn't mean you weren't in my heart. People grow up and move on separately with ones own life and sometimes we just get so busy and so wrapped up in our lives, jobs...that years go by so fast and we don't realize how much we are missing with family, and that really sucks. From this day on I am going to do better at keeping in touch with family, because you never know how much time you got. I know you are with Grandma, Karen, and my mom and many other angels and you are at peace. I love you to the moon and back little cousin.
Love, Kerry Lynn Heinen.

“ To know Ricky was to love Ricky. His sparkling spirit lit up the room with joy. Ricky's love for his mom, brother, grandmother, and father was his greatest treasure. Ricky was triumphing over life's trials with the help of his family, his little Beagle, and all the folks who supported and loved him.

I will miss his smile, his laughter, and his conversation. So, I say goodbye to a wonderful person. I wish Ricky love and peace and freedom. To the family, I send my prayers and thoughts of love.
