“ Sandy and I first met at Howard Elementary School together :) She was always so slim and very athletic. We went to school together and graduated in 1969. Sandy was always kind to everyone, especially her younger sister. The last time I saw Sandy was at the Dollar Tree on Web Road. She said that she had just moved into some apartments over by Rons Music and she had cancer. It was so good to see her again! I would have known her anywhere...she still resembled that slim kid I first met many years ago. God bless you Sandy, and prayers for all of your family.
