“ 2 weeks ago, my brother called me "Tubby" for the last time. When I was in the army, Shane took me home from the skatepark and introduced me to all the Colorado people I consider family to this day. We spent our college years together doing everything except going to college, besides for skating or parties. There's not a book big enough to write all the good memories together. You're unforgettable bro, thanks for all the good times.
