Stephanie A. Muhlbach, 60, of Grand Island died Sunday, September 27, 2015.

Services are 1:00 p.m. Thursday at Calvary Lutheran Church. Reverend Sheri Lodel will officiate.

Visitation for family and friends will be from 11:00 a.m. to 12:30 prior the service.

Stephanie was born July 31, 1955 in Omaha, the daughter of Harold and Florence (Whitehurst) Johns.

Those left to cherish her memory include her sons, Shane Muhlbach of Grand Island and Bryan (Candy) Muhlbach of Fremont; brothers, John (Donna) Johns of Seattle, WA and Terry (Judy) Johns of Omaha; five grandchildren, Bryana, Quinton, Lars, Shawn and Shyanne; a great-grandchild, Easton; several nieces and nephews; and her fur-baby, Katie.

She was preceded in death by her parents and sister, Judy Johns Kemp.

Stephanie was raised and attended school in Omaha and Grand Island. In 1977 she was married to Don M. Muhlbach.

In 1985 Stephanie started her own business, Bug Busters. She continued her work until ill health forced her to retire. She took pleasure in serving her customers, doing the best possible job for them.

Stephanie was a member of Calvary Lutheran Church. She enjoyed working with antiques and collectibles, both indoors and out. She loved being with and caring for animals, especially her dog Katie.

A special thank you is extended to Janet Fenton, Lori Ott and Rev. Sheri Lodel for their ongoing love and support.

Memorials are suggested to the family to be designated at a later date.
