“ I always knew this day would come, when I would have to say goodbye to my good friend, Tom Henson. I don't know what I have ever done for God to have blessed me with a life long friend, as good as Tom Henson. Though we will not share any more moments on this earth together, I will cherish the moments that we did share. Tom may not walk this earth anymore, but he will always walk with me, and you, and all those who loved him, in our hearts, until our hearts beat no more. I can only define our friendship as smiles and laughter. This man was always smiling, and always had a ready laugh. Over the years we had many moments of smiles and laughter. I have always believed that God gifts us the gifts of those we love. He gives them to us and ask us to love and cherish these gifts, but that someday we must return them to Him. For those who love and cherish these gifts as He commands, there are no regrets for saying goodbye, and letting go. We can say goodbye to our Brother Tom, but we will never let him go. I thank God for the presence of this life long friend in my life. In the book of my life, Tom's chapter is a special chapter. I thank God for writing it. I like to think Tom will be leaning against the fence with his mother, Florence, watching his dad, Dean, the Riatta man, roping and cutting calves. When it is my turn to leave this earth, I hope that my stone would say simply, "He was a good man". This is what Tom was, a good man. Though it breaks my heart to say goodbye to Tom, I must say I am truly honored to have called him friend, and brother. To Sheila, Sarah, and Joel, my deepest sympathies. May God love you as Tom did.
