“ Toni was such a beautiful person; she touched so many people’s lives during her short time here on earth. She always was doing things for her friends and family. I remember going with her to an auction, (it was the first time I had went with her to one) and she bought a refrigerator, clothes washer and two dryers, I ask her what are you going to do with these and she said a friend needs a refrigerator and my other friend needs a washer and a family member needs a dryer. I said, not knowing any better, “what’s the other dryer for” she told me “I am keeping the other one for someone who will need it”, and I said cant you get one at the next auction? She said “at the next auction they might not go so cheap”. That is just how she was, always thinking about her family and friends ahead of time.

The world became a much better place because of her and, so many of her family and friends became better people because of her, I know I did. We will all miss her so very much.

“ Toni and I enjoyed each other’s company, maybe because we had a lot in common like antiques, calm demeanor, going on trips, yard sales, our pets and animals in need etc one other thing we had in common was that we couldn’t handle gross stuff, one day Toni calls, all up tight wanting to talk to Tim needing him at the house and that I shouldn’t come, after 45 mins or so Tim comes home and says oh my! good thing I stayed home because Toni’s cat (Bebe) had gotten a hold of a good sized bird a pigeon I think and it was everywhere! He said it looked like the bird exploded! And Toni was grossing out.
