“ I will never forget our memories of our time together, he took my broken little family and gave us a peek of happiness for the first time. Although it was a short time, it was the best year of our life. He gave each and every one of my kids the attention that they never had from a man, and even after, we still remained friends. He was all about family and proudly spoke of them, especially his mother, who he loved and highly respected more than anyone. Thank you Warren for loving me and loving my kids and giving us memories I will always cherish. I know we will meet again someday ,Rest In Peace. Loving you always,
